

McClellan Says Agri Aides Hid Dope on Estes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., charged today that evidence which would have nipped the Willie Sol Estes schemes was withheld deliberately from Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman by trusted aides. McClellan gave the appraisal as called John C. Bagwell, Agriculture Department general counsel, for another day of quizzing by the Senate Investigations subcommittee.

McClellan's subcommittee seeks to learn whether politicians used influence to help Estes amass a fortune from federal farm aid and, and to snarl investigations of what Estes was doing.

Bagwell testified Thursday that until last April 11 he Freeman gave his first real picture of the Estes deals involved. It took the secretary only about hours to start a crackdown on Pecos, Tex., promoter, Bagwell said.

Earlier hearings, witnesses are that investigation after investigation of Estes had been attempted prior to April but never med to get anywhere.

Estes is awaiting trial on federal Texas fraud and theft charges.

Says Convict Knows About Big Robbery

BOSTON (AP)—Rhode Island State Police today denied a report that they are questioning an ex-convict who claims to know the whereabouts of the robbers who scooped $1.5 million from a mail truck in Plymouth Tuesday night.

Lt. Peter O'Connell, chief of the detective division, said that although three men were questioned about the holdup his department is not questioning anyone at present.

Providence, R.I., police said they questioned 12 men Thursday and that all have been released.

The Federal Reserve Bank of Boston gave an official figure of the cash haul—$1,551,277.

Boston police circulated throughout the country composite drawings of two of the white-gloved robbers. They bear a striking resemblance to the notorious Bobby Wilcox, 32, of Duke, Okla., and Albert Nussbaum, 27, who are wanted by the FBI for the murder of a Brooklyn, N.Y., bank guard.

Investigators earlier had ruled out the pair as participants in the mail truck snatch. They feel that a local gang was responsible.

It was pointed out that the way the crime was committed required intimate knowledge of the area. Also, the automobiles used were stolen in this area over a period of time, and detour signs placed near a bypass to divert traffic from the scene of the robbery were stolen in Massachusetts.

Even with 60 postal inspectors gathered from as far distant as Pittsburgh and Miami, solving the crime would be a long, arduous process, said the nation's chief postal inspector, Henry B. Montague, 50, but he was confident the holdup would be cracked eventually.

The Boston Globe said the unidentified ex-convict, reported to be acquainted with many Rhode Island hoodlums, told Harrie C. Gil, Rhode Island State Police superintendent, he not only knows who did the robbery but "where they are right now."

Another published report said a Boston woman driving to Cape Cod Tuesday night saw a convertible headed north and a tan sedan going south exchange what appeared to be headlights signals—a short and one long flash—at about the time and place of the ambush near Plymouth.

Authorities offered no comment on the possible significance of the report.

Bernard Domanski, 45, of Central Falls, R.I., a former member of the Harvey Bistany bank robbery gang, was picked up in that state and questioned before being taken to Massachusetts State Prison at Walpole to serve time for parole violation. But Montague said neither Domanski nor anyone else could be said to be a suspect as of the moment.

The money, being shipped from Cape Cod banks to the Federal Reserve at Boston, was in registered mail pouches guarded only by the two-man crew of the mail van, armed with .38 caliber pistols.

Board Picked to Handle United Funds

The general objective of a United Fund should be to provide the funds required for the soundest possible program of voluntary social services at the lowest cost.

Specific objectives are: increased giving, elimination of duplication of efforts, better use of volunteer citizens, distribution of funds in accordance with community needs, and increased efficiency of services.

The proper mobilization of contributors, volunteer workers and agency efforts in an annual United campaign produces more money in total for actual services than could separate campaigns by the same agencies.

Maximum inclusiveness of the United appeal promotes maximum community effort and contributor response. These things your board is continually striving to do and so on have selected the audit committee for the 1963 campaign, composed of Cecil O'Steen, and Mitch LaGrone.

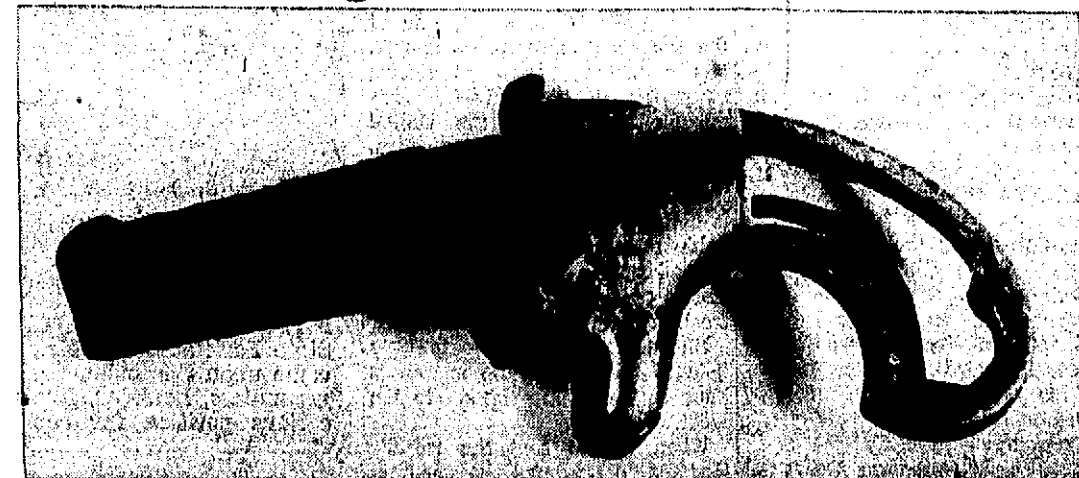

It will be their duty to handle all prospect cards, and to receive all money collected. They gladly accepted this responsibility.

3-Way Accident Brings Charge

Arthur Bollogos, Oak Town, Ill., was charged with hazardous driving here yesterday after being involved in a three-vehicle accident. An Arkla Gas Co. truck, driven by E. S. Ross, had stopped at a signal light. A car driven by Mrs. Gary Formby was stopped directly behind the truck.

Bollogos' car hit the Formby vehicle and knocked it into the rear of the gas company truck. Only minor damage resulted to all three vehicles. Officer's Mar-tin, Torbert and Chief Brown reported.

Old Derringer Found Near DeAnn

LUTHER ALLWHITE OF BLEVINS RT. 1, north of DeAnn, plowed up this old southern derringer recently on what was formerly the old Military Road. B. W. Edwards, an expert on guns, says it is a 41 cal. single action der ringer and was made in 1875. There was a shell in the gun which Mr. Allwhite removed. Near the gun Mr. Allwhite found a small brass ring with no marks of identification.

Commander May Eat His Words

THE COMMANDER OF THE 2ND AIR Force made the remark to his men that "the only watermelons he had ever seen come from Arkansas turned out to be gourds." Thursday, Col. James E. Warren, Commander of the 32nd Munitions and Maintenance Sqn., at Chennault Air Force Base, near Lake Charles, La., came up and the Hope Jaycees presented him with a 100 lb. watermelon grown by Aubrey Goodwin. He remarked that he wished we could see the General's face when they presented it to him. The presentation was made by Raymond Clark, left in picture. Those with Col. Warren were: Major Bridges, MSGT Guy Clark, S/Sgt. Savage, T/Sgt. Richard A. Barnes, A/2c Dugger, A/2c Rich, A/1c Louis Campbell, A/1c Weatherall, and A/2c Lawrence. Col. Warren said he and his men would never forget the fine hospitality shown by the Hope Jaycees.

Tower to Campaign for GOP in State

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., will campaign in Arkansas Oct. 11-12 on behalf of Dr. Kenneth Jones of Little Rock, the GOP opponent of Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark.

I. Lee Potter, chairman of the national Republican Committee's Operation Dixie, notified Arkansas Republican headquarters today that Tower would be in Arkansas about 24 hours.

GOP headquarters said work is under way on an itinerary to take Tower to at least four locations for meetings and speeches.

Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., also has said he will come to Arkansas if possible to help Jones in his campaign. But he said in a telegram to Winthrop Rockefeller, Republican national commit-tee man, that his trip would depend on how long the congressional session lasts.

Teenage Juries Getting Results

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Teen-age juries are getting results in Jacksonville Municipal Court, says Judge John Santora.

"The number of teen-age offenders appearing before me has been cut in half since the teen-age jury experiment went into operation last month," Santora said.

After hearing cases against teen-age defendants, the young jurors recommend what punishment the judge should give. He usually follows their recommendations.

Veteran AP News Writer Dies at 78

GLENDAL, Calif. (AP)—Dewitt Mackenzie, a foreign news analyst for The Associated Press for many years and a pioneer in that field, is dead at 78.

During his four decades with The Associated Press, his assignments sent him to many places around the world and to World War I battlefields.

Mackenzie, who joined the AP in 1910 and retired in 1951, died Thursday after a long illness.

During World War I he was assigned to the British army and was one of the few battlefield correspondents in that conflict. One of his foreign posts was London bureau chief of the AP in the 1920s.

During World War II, he back-grounded each day's developments in a column "The War Today."

Mackenzie was a native of West Burke, Vt., and a graduate of Syracuse University.

He lived in Westport, Conn., until the death last March of his second wife, the former Marjorie Louise Rumford, a sometime London stage and screen actress. He then came here to live with a son, Kent.

Mackenzie's first wife, the former Maude Bloomingdale, died in 1921. They were married in 1911.

In addition to the son Kent, he leaves a daughter, Marjorie Carl Brown of Los Angeles. Both children are of the second marriage.

Can't Detect Small Shots, U. S. Declares

By DORIAN FALK

GENEVA (AP)—The United States said today small underground nuclear weapon tests can be used for developing such new weapons as the pure fusion bomb.

For this reason the U.S. government cannot agree to any test ban treaty where observance is not guaranteed by effective control.

U.S. ambassador Arthur H. Dean told the 17-nation disarmament talks that "truly significant progress in weapons development can be, and has been, achieved through underground tests which, although detected by a seismic network, could not be identified except by objective on-site inspection."

"Based on recent U.S. experience, relatively small tests conducted underground can be very important. Big results could come from small undetected tests," Dean added.

He said that on the basis of new scientific findings even larger tests comparable to an explosion of 100,000 tons of TNT can be detected, but not identified, by a seismic network if they are conducted in seismic areas and in alluvium ground.

Dean did not elaborate on his reference to the pure fusion weapon but technical sources described it as a thermonuclear device which does not require triggering by an ordinary nuclear explosion as did the first H-bombs.

Nuclear fusion does not cause radioactive fallout.

The delegates have agreed informally to a two-month recess shortly before the opening of the next session of the United Nations Assembly Sept. 18. Plans are for the conference to resume Nov. 19.

There will be all day singing and homecoming services at the Shiloh Methodist Church Sunday August 19. The church is six miles southwest of Bodewau.

Singing will begin at 10 a. m. and lunch will be served at noon. Harold Duke will be in charge of the program.

Can't Afford Debate, Delay, Kennedy Says

PIERRE, S. D. (AP)—President Kennedy declared today the nation is entering a decade of crisis and "we cannot afford inefficiency and waste. We cannot afford endless debate and delay."

Standing beside South Dakota's vast Oahe Dam—the first stop in a weekend swing through the West—Kennedy pictured the country as in a race with a challenge.

And he urged in his prepared address that all parts of the economy pull together or else "the American people will be the losers."

Said Kennedy: "If the railroads prevent coal slurry pipelines from conveying the resources of our mines—if the mining interests prevent the use of nuclear energy for public and private transmission—if public and private power interstate veto each other's progress, or if one region refuses to permit another to share in its abundance—then we shall be entering a decade of challenge and crisis with an inexcusable, vulnerable attitude of waste."

Kennedy noted that the Oahe Dam was the fifth of six great dams to control the mainstream of the Missouri River and to generate electrical power to nine states.

And he said, "The key to this century is power—power on the farm as well as the factory—power in the country as well as the city."

From here Kennedy flies further west, to Pueblo, Colo., and Merced, Calif., to look at more water projects and at least take a peek at the political picture.

The White House calls Kennedy's trip nonpolitical and the government is thus picking up the tab. But the President also has his eyes on the senatorial contests in South Dakota and Colorado and the race for governor between former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

In his speech here today Kennedy dropped a plug for old friend George McGovern, former foe for peace director, saying he had served ably in the job.

Democratic McGovern is facing Republican Sen. Joe Bottom in South Dakota's Senate race.

Sweden to Let Woman Have Abortion

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—Sherri Finkbine was told by Sweden's Medical Board today she can have an abortion here to end a pregnancy she fears will bring her a drug-deformed baby.

"I can't say how happy and relieved I feel," she said, tears streaming down her cheeks. "A heavy burden has been lifted from me."

It was not announced when the operation would be performed.

The 30-year-old Arizona housewife and television performer burst out crying when her teacher husband Robert brought her the news.

"It has been a great strain for her," Finkbine said while he was trying to comfort his wife. "Now we just hope that the operation can take place as soon as possible and that this affair can be forgotten. We have no other wish than to start a normal life again when this is over."

Finkbine also expressed thanks to the Swedish doctors and the Royal Medical Board for sympathetic appreciation of the case.

"We are glad that there is a country in the world where doctors act like this in spite of the enormous publicity our case has received," he said. "I admire the medical board for having considered our applications just like any other case. Sherri has been very near a complete breakdown these days in Sweden and I think it is a miracle that she has endured the long hard strains."

They arrived here Aug. 5 after Arizona courts declined to sanction an abortion there.

Mrs. Finkbine said she had taken a tranquilizer drug—thalidomide—which has been blamed for deformed babies born in Europe. She had obtained the drug abroad.

Prober Says Humphrey Has Insulted Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate investigation of stockpile nickel deals with companies of former Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey blew up today in an angry shouting exchange between Humphrey and subcommittee Chairman Stuart Symington, D-Mo.

Symington finally adjourned the session after accusing Humphrey of insulting the Senate, and grudgingly allowing the Cleveland, Ohio, industrialist to reply briefly that Symington's own statement was ample proof of press statements that had aroused the senator's ire.

The gist of the Humphrey comments was that the inquiry is politically motivated.

The hearing was called off subject to the call of the chair, Symington said, while further investigation is carried out on the handling of the multimillion-dollar mining and smelting contract.

Humphrey never got to make his reply comment from the witness chair but after the uproar subsided he renewed his criticism and added to it in the glare of camera lights.

Flushed with anger, Humphrey said he does not repent anything he has said.

"This statement today has provided ample proof of the motivation of this committee," he said. "This is self evidence of the prejudice with which the whole hearings have been held."

"I did not attack the U.S. Senate. I attacked the bitterness and prejudice in which these hearings have been held."

Symington opened the second day of Humphrey's testimony by objecting to comments the former top Eisenhower administration official had made to the press.

He said the Humphrey statement Thursday was an insult to the Senate in that it charged the stockpile investigation was politically motivated.

Brushing aside demands by Sen. Prescott Bush, R-Conn., for a vote, Symington said he planned to adjourn the hearings for further investigation.

Humphrey started to make a statement, demanding "to be heard."

"You wouldn't dare," Humphrey said, and Symington's gavel banged down.

"This hearing is adjourned," snapped Symington. "Don't ever try to tell a United States senator what he would dare or wouldn't dare."

Bill Opens Up GI Insurance to Disabled

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House has rushed through a bill to reopen the GI insurance program to disabled veterans of World War II and the Korean War—but not to able-bodied ones.

The bill now goes to the Senate, where sentiment is strong for letting all 1 million veterans of the two wars apply for the government insurance, as the House bill originally provided.

Acting with a swiftness that caught most members unawares, the leadership called up the bill late Thursday, stripped it down to cover only 1.8 million veterans injured in military service, then recessed the House for 10 days.

The bill originally had been scheduled for action next week. It was hastily moved forward when a light legislative load presented a chance for a late-summer vacation.

The Veterans Administration has predicted only about 100,000 of the 1.8 million disabled veterans would apply for the insurance. They would get it at the rates that applied when the program was terminated Dec. 31, 1956, with $10,000 the maximum amount that could be purchased.

The program would be reopened for one year, beginning one year after enactment of the law.

Russia Won't Try Another Orbit Soon

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Premier Khrushchev—if he follows past practice—may give the West a barefaced nudge but won't try right away to top Russia's two-man orbit success with some new sensation.

This tubby Communist, one of the world's greatest press agents, has a brilliant sense of timing in public relations, whether it's pounding a shoe in the United Nations or bawling out American labor leaders.

Nevertheless, he seems to think it better to let each Soviet space achievement sink in at home, and abroad since each makes priceless propaganda, before trying a fresh spectacular.

But he has from time to time quickly followed Soviet successes aloft with unsubtle threats to the West.

When Russia sent the world's first satellite around the earth in 1957, it came at a very convenient time for Khrushchev. He had just been through a life-and-death struggle with the old-line Stalinist Bolsheviks.

He got rid of them in a blood- less purge by banishing them to minor posts. This struggle at the top must have upset the Russian people and made them wonder about the wisdom, leadership and direction of Khrushchev.

Then Sputnik went up, making the Russians first in space. It gave them a sense of national pride which they could identify with Khrushchev. For him it was like getting an okay from the board of health.

Then three days later the So- viets announced the test of a 'mighty hydrogen warhead of a

Lightning Hits Twice in Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Can light- ning strike twice in the same vicinity? A starlet with the im- probable name of Mimsy Farmer has high hopes that it could happen.

The story is this: Mimsy is a Hollywood High School girl who was discovered while munching a snack in a coffee shop near the campus.

Now don't go away. I know you've heard this song before. It's from an old familiar score that goes 'way back to a starlet with the then-improbable name of Lana Turner.

They say nothing changes in Hollywood, except the faces. So I went out to Warner Brothers to see if the ancient legend had truly been repeated.

Mimsy was on the set of "Spencer's Mountain," in which she appears with Henry Fonda, Maureen O'Hara, James Mac-

Arthur, Donald Crisp and Wally Cox. It was hard to tell whether she has the attributes of another Lana, since her hair was up in rollers. But the aspects visible checked out okay.

She is a petite blonde with green eyes and a pert mouth into which she sometimes puts a dainty foot. Such as when we were discussing with Maureen O'Hara the visit on the set of Gene Tierney.

"She's a real old-timer, huh?" said Mimsy, wide-eyed.

O'Hara collapsed in laughter, admitting that she and Gene were contemporaries at 20th Century-Fox—"and I'm not ashamed to say that I came to Hollywood 21 years ago."

That was four years before Mimsy was born.

Mimsy made an abashed apology and retired to a dressing room where she talked about her career thus far. Was the stuio's publicity story true: That she was discovered eating a hamburger?

"No," she replied "I think I was having soup. But the rest of it is true. I had noticed this man looking at me in the eating place. When I went outside he came up and introduced himself as Byron Griffith and asked me if I'd like new design" and at a great height. From this the West could draw a simple conclusion:

That the Soviets had tested a nuclear warhead on a missile that could span oceans and continents. Khrushchev didn't have to say anything.

Within less than a month the Russian Communist party an- nounced the ouster of its defense minister, Marshal Georgi K. Zim- kov, one of Russia's great war heroes.

As if to erase the shock of this Russia the very next day sent up its second satellite, this time with a dog.

Construction Fund
LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The state Revenue Department building fund has $358,000, Revenue Commissioner Ted Donham told the building commission Wednesday.

The money is from an increase in the fee for title certificates on vehicles and a new $5 fee for recording leases in gas, oil and other materials taken from the earth.

to get in the business.

"I said, 'what business?' and he said, 'the movie business.' I said yes, and he gave me his card and told me to have my parents call him if they were interested. They called him and I signed up with him as my agent. I went to his weekly dramatic classes for four months before he started showing me around at the studios."

A few television jobs gave her some seasoning. Producer-director Delmer Daves tested her for "Spencer's Mountain" and persuaded Warners to sign her. She's on a 90-day option at present. But Daves is talking about her for "Seventeenth Summer," and studio opinion is that Mimsy is on her way up.

Something you should think about if you're about to buy a truck:

If all trucks were built the same way, cost the same to keep up, were worth the same at trade-in . . . then probably the price tag would be your only concern. It can't be, of course, because some trucks have more quality than others. And marks of quality are the real keys to low cost.

Chevrolet trucks, for example, have double-wall construction, which gives bodies and cabs more strength. Cabs are insulated against heat, cold and noise. A big part of road shock, which shortens truck life, is damped out by Chevrolet's suspension system; it also makes riding in the truck a pleasure. Pickup bodies and cabs are separated to eliminate stress between them.

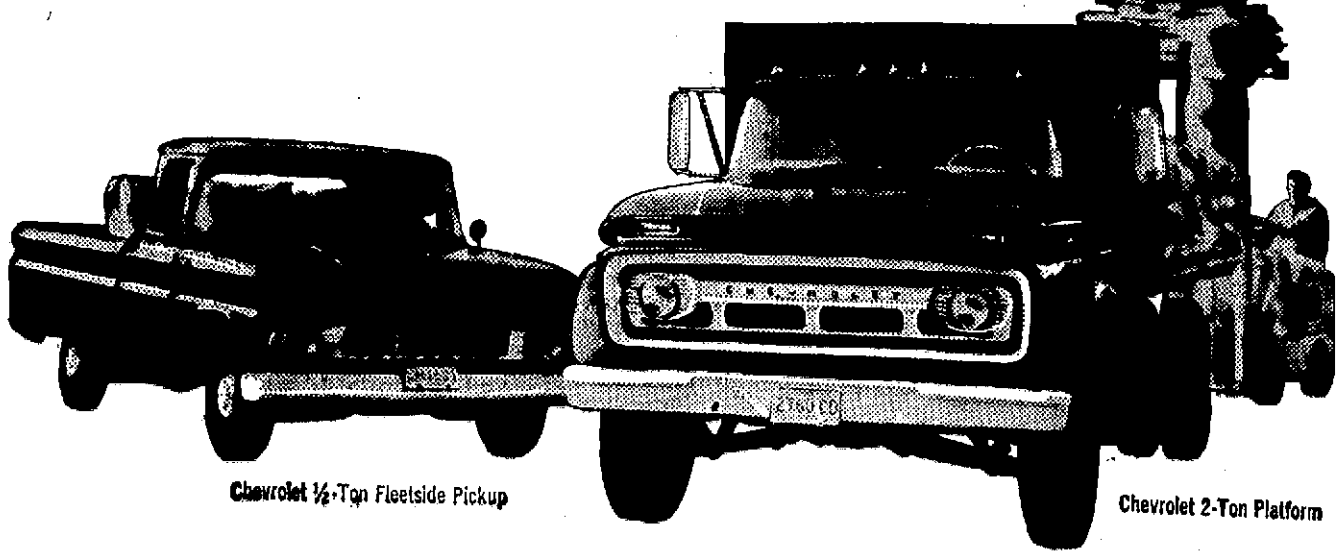

Value such as this has induced more people to invest in Chevrolet trucks every year since 1937.

This can be a good time to buy a modern new Chevrolet truck

Late summer traditionally is the season for all-around savings on a new Chevrolet truck . . . selection is still good . . . deliveries are prompt . . . and Chevrolet dealers are doubly anxious to put you into a new vehicle in order to make way for next year's models. Coupled with the efficient performance a new Chevrolet truck will give you, it seems evident that you couldn't buy at a better time.

Come in and take full advantage of it!

Tontitown Best Harvest in Years

TONTITOWN, Ark. (AP) — Farmers of this Italian-American community began harvesting their best grape crop in 15 years to-day as they opened the 4th annual Tontitown Grape Festival.

Blanche Gaiche, 16, of Gentry, will be crowned Queen Concordia, 1962, at ceremonies Friday night at which former Gov. Sid McMath will speak.

The people of Italian descent have been raising Concord grapes in the Tontitown area since 1897, when a Catholic priest, Father P. Bandini, moved them from Cicot County.

One hundred families had migrated to Chicot, on the Mississippi, from Italy, but many of them died from disease and they were not making ends meet in the unfamiliar lowlands.

Father Bandini started a rescue mission in Tontitown, three miles west of Springdale in the high northwest corner of the state. He brought the remaining 40 families by wagon and in the more familiar surroundings, they began to thrive.

A few who made the trek are still in Tontitown, and many of their sons and their sons' sons have stayed to live and work in the vineyards.

It was Father Bandini who decided that the Concord grape would be the best crop for them. The town was named for Henry Tonti, a Mississippi Valley explorer who was the first mayor of Tontitown.

A Thanksgiving mass in the town's small Catholic church opened the three-day festival early today. Then the men went to the fields and the women began cooking gallons of spaghetti for tonight's feast.

Rapist Gets a Stay of Execution

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Lonnie Mitchell, 23-year-old Negro sentenced to die in the Arkansas electric chair Friday for raping a white woman, was granted a stay of execution today by U.S. District Judge Gordon E. Young.

A hearing in federal court next Tuesday on whether Mitchell's civil rights had been violated.

The condemned man's attorney, Christopher C. Mercer of Little Rock, charged that Arkansas had a common practice of sentencing Negro men to death for raping white women, but never executes white men for raping Negroes.

Mercer also contended that Mitchell was "an ignorant youth" and was not afforded a lawyer in advance of his trial.

Mitchell was convicted in Union Circuit Court in El Dorado on April 11, 1959.

His lawyer contended that the only incriminating evidence against Mitchell were his purported confessions, and that they were taken by threat and physical abuse.

Mercer charged that Union County Jury Commissioners had deliberately excluded members of the Negro race from serving on petit jury panels for criminal cases.

The first jury in the Mitchell case was discharged on the defense attorney's motions based on the fact that it had no Negroes.

Mercer said he had learned only Monday, and from unofficial sources, that the state planned to execute Mitchell Friday. He said he had been Mitchell's attorney of record for three years.

Newlyweds Caught in Crossfire of Warring In-Laws

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: Though happy as two turtle doves, my husband and I feel like flying off and never coming back—all because of his parents and mine. They won't speak, which makes us sick at heart for we are about to celebrate our first wedding anniversary and naturally wish all four to be present.

My parents—Mr. and Mrs. Y. disapproved of our marrying because I was only 17 at the time. They blamed my husband's folks Mr. and Mrs. Z claiming that their son was veritably pushed out of the nest.

Of course this was not true. However, they did give us a beautiful wedding and handsome reception afterwards but, like stubborn children, refused to acknowledge the presence of Mr. and Mrs. Z. You can imagine how my husband and I felt. Since then, we have proven to all four parents that we "did" know what we were doing by adjusting without a hint of discord to all the responsibilities of married life. Everybody is happy for us.

My mother, Lord love her snobbish little soul, feels she moves in loftier circles than the Z's and refuses to associate with them. If we invite her and Papa to our anniversary she is sure to hurt the feelings of Mr. and Mrs. Z. who have not yet recovered from her treatment at the wedding reception. Yet, if we don't invite her, she'll be miffed. We can't afford two parties. Can you suggest a way out? —"Confidential"

Dear Confidential: If you can't afford two wedding anniversary parties, you certainly can't afford one with a quarrel. Celebrate by yourselves and frankly tell your parents that you are leaving them out because they don't agree. Meanwhile, win your mother over by deliberately vamping her into doing the right thing. Enlist your husband's help. Invite her to dinner.

Several years ago, though not blind, I began studying Braille transcription, with the thought of helping others. It has proved most interesting and is really great fun. In the course of the work I have met stimulating people, men as well as women, have been sent as a delegate to Braille conferences, become proficient enough to Braille books for students and am now corresponding in Braille with a girl in Canada, a woman in California and a young man in West Berlin—all of them blind.

I soon begin a project of writing Braille letters for people who have blind friends but don't understand Braille themselves. If there is no Braille class near Nell B., tell her to write the Library of Congress. It has a correspondence course in Braille. And don't let her say she is too old to learn. I'll be 72 my next birthday!

Tourist Big Business in Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The tourist business, Arkansas major industry, is booming at an apparent record level this summer with vacationers crowding in to the state for every reason under the sun.

State agencies and private businesses report more tourists are spending more money than ever before.

The state has recorded an increase of about 20 per cent in money spent and number of persons visiting the state, said Bryan Stearns, associate director of the state Parks and Publicity Commission.

Already more than three million people have visited Arkansas state parks, he said, and that number will continue to climb until it levels off in September after the vacation season.

Last year travelers spent $47,300,000 in Arkansas, the state Chamber of Commerce said. That record probably will fall this year. Stearns said a half million more people have visited state parks this year than in the first seven months of 1961.

"In the state park areas alone," he said, "more than $80,000 has been spent." At this time last year, $6,000 had been recorded in parks.

The State Highway Department reported that traffic on Arkansas highways is up 10 per cent over last year. Machines at strategic points on highways record the traffic.

Last year Arkansas ranked fifth among the states in out-of-state visitors with 1.4 million. Twenty eight per cent came to visit relatives and friends, 24 per cent were passing through, 22 per cent were sightseeing, 22 per cent were on business and 4 per cent came to fish and hunt.

The Parks and Publicity Commission compiled the figures through a survey of individual vacationers. It found that resorts drew 23 per cent of out-of-staters, parks 76 per cent, forests 11 per cent, dams 10 per cent, mountain areas 8 per cent, lakes per cent, others 2 per cent.

Arkansas is well prepared for the influx. It ranks 18th in the number of motels with 978. And hotels also are doing a big business. Officials at the Arlington Hot Springs said it was their biggest summer on record.

Hot Springs, one of the state's vacation centers, presents a picture of dynamic increase.

Mort Cox, secretary-manager of the city's Chamber of Commerce, said the 1962 summer would be the best in the resort's history.

"Retail sales figures, one of the best indicators, are up five per cent over 1961," he said.

Tom Stone, president of the Arkansas First National Bank in Hot Springs, said he was impressed by the unusually large number of families on vacation. He said bank deposits are at an all-time high.

Eric Wade, vice president of the Arkansas Bank & Trust Co. in Hot Springs, said assets reflect a tremendous summer business — "definitely a record."

The National Parks Service reported an increase in visitor patronage. In July, 3,431 campers from 45 states and the District of Columbia used spa campground. The Ouachita National Forest, which spreads over much of west Arkansas, reported 1.5 million visitors last year and said it is anticipating an increase this summer.

Gus Albright, publicity director of the Game and Fish Commission, said fishing and boating was up. Last year Arkansas sold 250,429 resident fishing licenses and 140,219 non-resident licenses. The figures are expected to climb, but tabulations will not be made until later in the year, Albright said.

The fishing is very good on Arkansas lakes and streams, Albright said, better than the record year of 1959-60, which recorded 20,000 more licenses than last year.

Probably the greatest portion of the money spent in the state was at hotels and motels, restaurants

U.S. Spending in Lieu of a Tax Cut

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Foster pumping of government funds into the economy is being tried again in lieu of a quickie tax cut.

The sum so far committed—$2 billion to speed highway building—is smaller than the $5-$10 billion in income taxes previously considered. But the object is the same — to get a slowing down economy moving again at a brisker pace.

The administration may think up other pump-priming moves to ward the same end, while it waits for the tax cut and tax reforms.

Speeding up federal spending also was used in 1960 to nudge a lagging economy. Veterans insurance dividends, for example, were made earlier than usual, and tax refunds were speeded.

The $2 billion this time is being made available to such states as have highway projects far enough along to make immediate use of it. Only about a dozen are reported in that group. The object is to get construction contracts let in coming weeks and thus open up more jobs.

States believed able to use the money now include Arizona, Arkansas, Colorado, Illinois, Maine, Minnesota, North and South Carolina, Tennessee, South Dakota and Washington.

If all the $2 billion is spent within the form of orders or materials will trickle through the economy in the form of orders for materials, road equipment, and spending by workers who get whatever new jobs are created.

The accent is on doing a quick job. The $2 billion doesn't add to and service stations.

And the fun-seekers are still coming. "I suppose the biggest increase has been in the number of campers," Stearns said. "There are more campers now than anyone ever dreamed there would be in our parks, and it's been this way all year long."

He said improvement of camp sites and facilities and improvement of roads to the sites are among the main reasons for the increase.

Boning also is up, Albright said, growing year by year, and it has not reached its peak.

Horse Show at Forest City

FORREST CITY, Ark. (AP) — Horses from Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas, Tennessee, Missouri and Arkansas will be shown to-night and Saturday night at the Forrest City Charity Horse Show.

Proceeds of the show will be used by the Forrest City Junior Auxiliary and the Crowley Ridge Shrine and projects operated by the two groups.

Among the top Arkansas entries are horses owned by Dr. T. J. Raney of Little Rock, Walter J. Brandon of North Little Rock, and Dr. Porter Rodgers of Searcy.

The federal government as its part of the huge highway program. It is simply being made available now rather than in the future.

The money comes out of a special fund set up to finance the 41,000-mile interstate highway project.

The states put up part of the money but the federal government will put up most.

The states had been told they could sign contracts involving $3.6 billion of federal money in the fiscal year ending next June 30. The Commerce Department now says the special trust fund is big enough to take care of $5.8 billion in contracts this fiscal year.

And the department adds that the states can commit this federal money in this quarter, ending Sept. 30, instead of the $944 million originally allowed for this period.

If those states in position to sign contracts now use up the extra allotment, it will add $2 billion of potential spending in the immediate future. And it is in this current period of uncertainty that the federal government is most anxious to see more money spent, more plans started, more orders

Other gestures include the recent relaxing of depreciation allowance rules for tax purposes, with the hope that business would order more new equipment, plan more new factories and other facilities.

Several bills that would involve more federal spending are before the Congress.

Some economists question the long-term value to the economy of pump priming by increased government spending. But along with tax cutting it is one of the methods that comes first to mind when economic stagnation is feared.

KNIFE FOR DESSERT
By STEVE APRIL

Detective Sergeant Papas tried to show his usual hearty appetite as he ate supper, knowing that if he didn't his wife, Dora, would ask, as she did anyhow, "All right, Matt, what case has you down in the dumps this time?" "Who said a case has me down?" Matt asked.

He knew the question wouldn't slow her or cause her to change her course. She'd dig the information out of him one way or another. Dora was a better detective than Matt was, he decided. Anyhow she was a master at the third degree. Or perhaps it was the tenth degree that a woman give her husband. Whatever degree, it was the highest.

"Matt, when I phoned the squad room today, to remind you to pick up the ice cream, you told me you'd been to busy to break for lunch. Tell me, what's the case?"

"Well," Matt began slowly, "Boots Shick, a numbers punk working for an old time thug named Lefty Dawson, was killed early this morning."

"By Lefty?" Dora asked, touching the thick braids of greying hair she wore like a turban.

"Let's say if anybody had a motive to kill Boots, it would be Lefty. He's rough, rugged. We know Lefty slapped Boots around a few days ago, accused him of holding out some dough, threatened to kill Boots if he didn't leave town. Boots stayed."

"Why don't you arrest Lefty? Start working on your steak before it gets cold, honey."

That was the way a woman's mind works, thought Matt. But Dora could operate that way on her husband and get by with it. She might give Lefty the tenth degree and make him confess. She was even right about the steak. He set to work on it and his appetite returned. After all, steak was too expensive to waste.

"You have to have proof before you arrest a man," he told Dora, with his mouth full.

"I know he killed Boots. So do you."

"Sure, Lefty knocked off Boots," Matt said, "but thinking it isn't proving. At 5 a. m. two witnesses saw Boots stabbed on the Elm Street Bridge. It wasn't daylight yet, and neither witness can identify the assailant, except that he was about Lefty's beefy build. The witnesses thought the assailant tossed the knife into the river, both saw the flash of the blade in the bridge lights before it hit the water. I've grilled Lefty. His alibi isn't too good, he knows all we have against him is circumstantial evidence." Matt cut a hunk of steak, chewed it slowly.

"If you dragged the river for the knife, perhaps you could prove it was Lefty's."

Through a mouthful of steak Matt mumbled, "And thank you, Mrs. Perry Mason. The very same idea also occurred to the police department. The river moves pretty slowly there, just before it rounds Cassen Point, heads for the bay. The water under the bridge is almost sluggish. But we can't find any knife on the river bottom, no murder weapon."

Dora thought for a moment. "Well, finish your supper."

Matt glanced across the table at his wife with surprise. "You mean you haven't come up with anything?"

"I didn't say that."

"Good steak. What's for dessert?" Matt asked.

"The ice cream you didn't bring home," Dora said, stacking the dishes in the sink as Matt lit his pipe. "The usual deal? If I help solve the case, you wash the dishes?"

"Oh stop it, honey," Matt grunted.

Dora told him, "Go buy the ice cream--chocolate almond. Buy it down on State Street. There's a couple of sporting goods stores there. Show Lefty's picture and ask if he bought a fishing knife there recently?"

"A fishing knife?"

"Uh-huh. One of the kind with cork handles that float. The knife is way out at sea now, but Lefty planned it that way--his evidence would float away. But if the clerk remembers Lefty buying the knife, you can make Lefty confess."

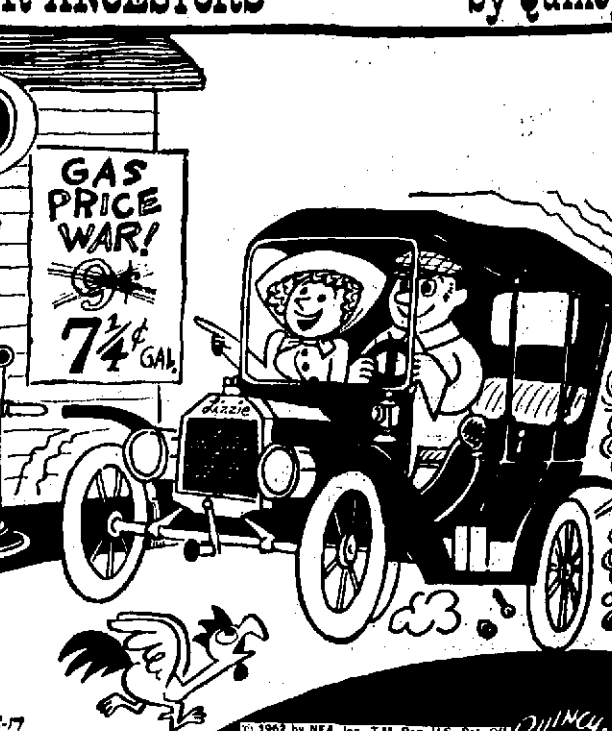

Matt didn't wait for her to finish, but ran down the porch steps. She called after him, "Don't forget! Chocolate almond!"

When Matt returned, Dora was in her night gown watching the late movie. He held out the quart of ice cream.

"You were right, honey. A clerk identified Lefty. Lefty bought the knife Wednesday and made sure it would float. We got a confession out of Lefty."

Grandparents of Baby File Suit
BENTONVILLE, Ark. (AP) - Maternal grandparents of a baby girl born 10 minutes after the death of its mother filed suit Thursday in Chancery Court to obtain custody of the child.

The Circuit Clerk said today Mrs. Onita Kalm Grenon of Odessa, Tex., a grandmother of the child, filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus asking full custody.

The suit alleged Ronald Red, 23, father of the child, is not "physically or financially able to provide for the support of the child and does not have the proper home or facilities for caring for same."

Red, a truck driver, leaves the child with his parents when at work, the Circuit Clerk said.

A hearing will be held on the petition, probably next Thursday. If petition is granted, chancery court will decide who is best fit to care for the child.

Mrs. Myrna Joyce Red, the mother, died of a gunshot wound shortly before the baby was born by caesarean section. Ronald Red said his wife shot herself at home with a .22 caliber pistol one time in the chest.

Red Tape to Bring New Apt. House
RENSSELAER, N.Y. (AP) - The Sharpe Homestead Nursing home might become an apartment house. The red tape probably would be much less.

It was the red tape that prompted Mrs. Earl Gundrum to close the home this week.

As she explained Thursday: "There were 18 state and federal agencies constantly flooding me with forms, questions and statistical requests, medical reports, census figures, Social Security, unemployment insurance, workmen's compensation, withholding taxes--all too much to handle."

She said the paperwork frequently kept her at her desk for periods of more than 18 hours.

"I'd let it pile up while working with the patients, then tackle it all at once. I just couldn't keep up with the papers and forms and serve my patients well."

The home had 21 patients, men and women ranging in age from 45 to 95, and a 14-member staff. It had been operating for 10 years.

The State Social Welfare Department, which has jurisdiction over nursing homes, praised Mrs. Gundrum's operation in 1958 and 1961.

She said she planned to turn the large building into an apartment because it was too big for her and her husband.

All of the patients have gone to other nursing homes in this area.

Audit Review Set
LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A review of audits of 12 state agencies has been set Friday by the Legislative Joint Auditing Committee.

The committee said Wednesday the agencies are: Board of Accountancy, School for the Blind, School for the Negro Blind and Deaf, Veterans Service Office, Arkansas Polytechnic College, Southern State College, Civil Air Patrol, Board of Osteopathic Examiners, Board of Psychiatric Technicians, Racing Commission, Veterinary Examining Board and Livestock and Horse Show premiums and awards.

Twins Wallop Yankees in Tenth 9-8

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Big Frank Sullivan got credit for his third victory without a loss Thursday when Minnesota's Bernie Allen looped a one-out single to left field in the 10th inning, driving in the run that beat the New York Yankees 9-8.

It was Sullivan's third appearance against the Yankees this season and they haven't got a hit off him yet. He's credited with one victory and two saves against the World Champions.

Chicago beat Cleveland again, 11-6, and Kansas City won its 13th straight over Washington, 4-2, in the only other American League games scheduled.

In the National League, leading Los Angeles widened its margin to 2½ games with a 7-3 victory over Pittsburgh while second-place San Francisco lost to Chicago 6-0. Cincinnati trounced Milwaukee 7-1 and St. Louis edged Houston 3-1. Philadelphia and the New York Mets were not scheduled.

The Twins' victory over New York trimmed the Yankees' leading margin to 5½ games over the second-place Los Angeles.

The third-place Twins, who were in danger of falling hopelessly behind, now trail by 6½.

Sullivan, who is 6 feet 7, picked up from the Philadelphia Phillies, has to rank as one of the big reasons the Twins are still close.

He's either won or saved the game the last three times Minnesota beat the Yankees.

At Cleveland, the White Sox pounced on the stricken Indians for seven runs in the first inning and coasted in.

The big burst made it easy for Eddie Fisher (5-4), who gave up 12 hits including ninth inning home runs by Jerry Kindall and Ty Cline. Jim (Mudcat) Grant lost it.

Ed Radow (11-13) limited Washington to four hits but had some control trouble as the A's pushed their record against the Senators to 15-3. The A's broke a 2-2 tie in the fifth on Ed Charles' triple and Jerry Lumpe's double. George Alusik's single drove in another for insurance.

25-Day Duck Season for Arkansas

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 14 Mississippi Flyway states, including Arkansas, will have a 25-day duck hunting season this year and a bag limit of four ducks, the Interior Department said today.

Last year Arkansas had a 40-day season and a limit of two ducks per day.

The department notified Louisiana Reps. T. A. Thompson and Hale Boggs of the new limits. They had sought a longer season for the flyway. Louisiana had a

Records Fall in Women's Outdoor Meet

By DICK CICCONI

CHICAGO (AP) — "I really didn't know I was going that fast, but I wanted to break the record," commented 16-year-old Carolyn House, whose 18:44.0 performance in the 100-meter freestyle Thursday frosted a record breaking opening day of the National AAU Women's Outdoor Swimming Championships.

Murray Rose, Australia's 1956 and 1960 Olympic champion, cracked the listed American 400-meter freestyle record and a U.S. 200-meter freestyle relay team bettered an American mark set in 1935 in the men's international invitational.

Today's schedule promises another day of record-smashing as Rohn Johnson, 16, Arlington, Va., goes after the 100-meter freestyle title she won last year.

Jean Dellekamp of the Indianapolis Athletic Club returns to defend her 200-meter breaststroke title; Nina Harner of Philadelphia will defend her 200-meter backstroke crown and Barbara McAllister shoots for Joel Lenz's 36-meter diving crown.

In what may be the day's top race, Donna De Varona, the darling of the 1960 Olympic team, defends her world record in the 400-meter medley.

Miss House, in successfully defending her 1500-meter title, topped a world mark of 19:02.8 held by Sweden's Margareta Rylander, set in Upsala, Sweden in 1961.

The blonde Los Angeles lass was pushed to her record peak by teammate Sharon Finne-man, 16, of the Los Angeles Athletic Club, who also bettered Miss House's listed American mark of 19:14.7.

Rose, the 23-year-old water marvel, splashed through the Portage Park pool in 4:16.1 erasing for the second time in a week the listed American mark of 4:17.5 by Japan's Tsuyoshi Yamanka. Rose was timed in 4:17.2 at last week's men's nationals. The world mark is 4:15.9 by Jon Konrads at Sydney, Australia in 1960.

In the 200-meter freestyle relay, the U.S. "A" team of Steve Clark, Santa Clara; Ray Padavon, Southern Illinois University; Dick McDonough, Villanova, and Steve Jackman, Minnesota, ripped the water in a remarkable 1:37.1, topping a 1:44.0 set by a U.S. team 27 years ago in Osaka, Japan.

19-day season last year and a limit of two ducks.

Poor breeding conditions on the northern plains have cut down the number of ducks and the stringent regulations are an attempt at conservation.

The department said the regulations would be announced officially Friday. Under the regulations, Mississippi Flyway hunters may shoot four birds daily—two mallards and two blue bills.

The states in the flyway are Alabama, Arkansas, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky, Louisiana, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Ohio, Tennessee and Wisconsin.

Dodgers Win Behind Hitting of Camilli

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Reserve catcher Doug Camilli, inserted into the starting line-up for the first time since June, may have pulled Los Angeles' bedraggled forces together just in time for the Dodgers' invasion of Cincinnati tonight and a four-game series with the Reds.

The right-handed swinger responded to the call by driving in four runs, and powering the National League leaders to a 7-3 triumph over Pittsburgh Thursday night that ended the Dodgers' longest losing streak of the season at five games.

Camilli, 25, whose father Dolph played for the then Brooklyn Dodgers in the late '30s and early '40s, gave the Dodgers a 3-3 tie with a sacrifice fly in the fourth inning, stroked a two-run single that put them out front in the sixth and added a home run for insurance in the eighth.

Camilli's efforts provided the Dodgers with an added buffer going into the Cincinnati series, boosting their edge over second-place San Francisco to 2½ games while leaving the defending champion Reds 5½ behind.

The Giants were beaten by the Chicago Cubs 6-0 as Don Cardwell hurled a six-hitter. The Reds made it 11 victories in the last 12 games with a 7-1 triumph over Milwaukee.

In the only other NL game, St. Louis used Larry Jackson's five-hit hurling to end a five-game losing skid by defeating Houston 3-1. Philadelphia and the New York Mets were not scheduled.

In the American League, third-place Minnesota edged the first-place New York Yankees 9-8 in 10 innings. Chicago's White Sox blasted Cleveland 11-6 and Kansas City beat Washington 4-2.

Cardwell (6-11) struck out eight while walking only two and coasted to his second triumph over the Giants backed by a 15-hit Cub attack. Ken Hubbs, Dick Bertell and George Altman each collected three hits against Billy Pierce (11-4) and two successors.

Frank Robinson continued his slugging with home runs Nos. 30 and 31—for five in the last four games. The Reds broke it open with a six-run fifth inning against Braves' starter Lew Burdette (9-9) as Leo Cardenas smacked a two-run triple, winning pitcher Jim Maloney (7-4) singled home one run and Robinson drove in three with a homer.

Bill White's third single knocked in Julian Javier and broke a 1-1 tie in the eighth inning as the Cardinals whipped the Colts. The only run off Jackson (10-10) was unearned. Colts starter Dick Farrell (8-15) was ejected for arguing on ball and strike calls while pitching to Stan Musial.

Agreement in Guinea Reported

By MAX HARRELSON
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)

A bitter 13-year dispute over West New Guinea has been ended by an agreement under which the Netherlands will bow out of the big island territory it has ruled for 134 years.

The western half of the island will be transferred first to temporary U. N. administration and then will be handed over to Indonesia by next May 1. Its final disposition will be decided by a U. N.-supervised plebiscite in 1969.

In the detailed agreement signed by Dutch and Indonesian representatives Wednesday night, the Netherlands government gave up the last bit of its colonial empire in the Far East. Indonesia won independence in 1949.

Both Indonesian and Dutch representatives hailed the agreement as a major achievement for acting U. N. Secretary-General U. Thant and his special envoy, former U.S. diplomat Ellsworth Bunker, who negotiated the settlement.

Dutch Premier Jan de Quay took a different tack. In a radio television address to the Dutch people Wednesday night, he said his government had yielded because the pressure of Indonesian military action "threatened to culminate in a real war" and because "the Netherlands no longer

Kennedy's Program to Hit Trouble

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP)—Unaccus-

tomed as its members are to speaking briefly, the Senate operating under cloture has an acrid atmosphere that forecasts new troubles for President Kennedy's legislative program.

Under the cloture rule, unused for 35 years until it was invoked by a 63-27 vote Tuesday, each senator is limited to a total of one hour's talk while the administration's communications satellite bill is before the body.

A full day's experience in its operation Wednesday left the Senate short in temper and accomplishments but long on scars that may not be healed when other measures are taken up under the customarily unlimited debate.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, who has the principal responsibility for piloting the President's program through the Senate, jumped on the bill's opponents for abusing the rules by forcing frequent quorum calls.

Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., who said he hoped he could kill "this lousy bill," took out after Sen. Lee Metcalf, D-Mont.

Presiding at the time, Metcalf was about to submit to the Senate itself Mansfield's point of order that opponents were engaging in "dilatory tactics" in violation of the cloture rule. Long demanded to be heard but Metcalf said the point wasn't debatable.

"Don't give your colleague (Mansfield) the whole damn floor," Long roared.

Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., another opponent of the bill quipped Long and the Louisiana senator subsided temporarily.

This and other demonstrations caused some of cloture's best friends—who for years have begged how wonderful it would be to be able to seal up a filibuster inside an iron-clad limitation on talk—to express some public doubts about the way things were going.

Walnut Ridge Jackson Teams Win

HELENA, Ark. (AP) — Reigel pitching figured prominently Thursday in opening round victories of the regional American Legion baseball tournament under way in Helena.

Larry Green, who entered in the third, pitched four-hit ball to lead Walnut Ridge, Ark., past Austin, Tex., 8-4 while reliever Edward Turnbill held Jackson, Miss., at bay for an 11-8 victory by Memphis, Tenn.

Austin and Jackson met this afternoon in their second games, with Memphis meeting New Orleans tonight. Walnut Ridge plays again Saturday in the double elimination tournament.

Austin's highly touted Almador Alvarez, who won 10 in a row during the regular season, was plagued by wildness Thursday night, giving up nine hits to take the loss.

The Arkansans forged ahead 4-0 in the first inning, scored again in the third and coasted home.

The Walnut Ridge attack was powered by Charley Bolen who drove in three runs with two hits, including a double.

Memphis jumped on the Jackson squad for six top runs in the third inning and added two more in the sixth for good measure.

The Mississippians were troubled by sloppy fielding and helped the Memphis cause by contributing nine errors.

Claude Reeder, who gave up the six runs in the third, absorbed the loss.

Psychiatrist Report

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Psychiatrists probing actress Marilyn Monroe's last days may make a complete report by Friday, Corner Theodor J. Murphy says.

Autopsy surgeons have ruled out poison as a possible factor in her death, he said Wednesday.

The psychiatrists had two final interviews scheduled today in their psychological survey started shortly after the actress' nude body was found in bed at her Brentwood home on Aug. 5.

Authorities said after the autopsy, Miss Monroe, 36, died of an overdose of barbiturates.
